GYMNASIUM DEDICATED

Large Crowd At- tends Ceremonies

They were here! Lor' how they were here. Big ones, little ones, old ones, gray and bald headed ones all come together to unite in the celebration so admirably planned by Thos. Bragg.

The Governor started the ball rolling when he received the A. P. L. regiment. The regimental review followed, the companies then breaking up and forming one mighty H, cheers being given for "Uncle" Charlie and his wife. By a unique course of maneuvering, featuring "Coach" Carter, the Auburn cadets managed to spell out the entire word AUBURN. After a few yells a grand rush, not Dr. Petrie's center rush, but a new style 1916 Auburn rush, began for the gym. "Susses" band got there first, and played various selections while the crowd was being seated.

After the prayer by Dr. Grogan, Dr. Thach as the official representative of the trustees, faculty, and student body, bade everyone welcome.

Billy Williams of Montgomery acted as Master of Ceremonies. In a short speech he praised the "Auburn spirit" and its manifestation in the gym.

Thomas Bragg in his usual eloquent manner told how the new gym had been made possible through the old, and expressed the hope that this new athletic factory would bind the Alumni more closely to their alma mater and the students to one another. After paying due respect to the memory and work of Gus Graydon and Dr. Hamill, he formally presented the gym to Gov. Henderson. After which the strains of Auburn's alma mater song rang loud and clear.

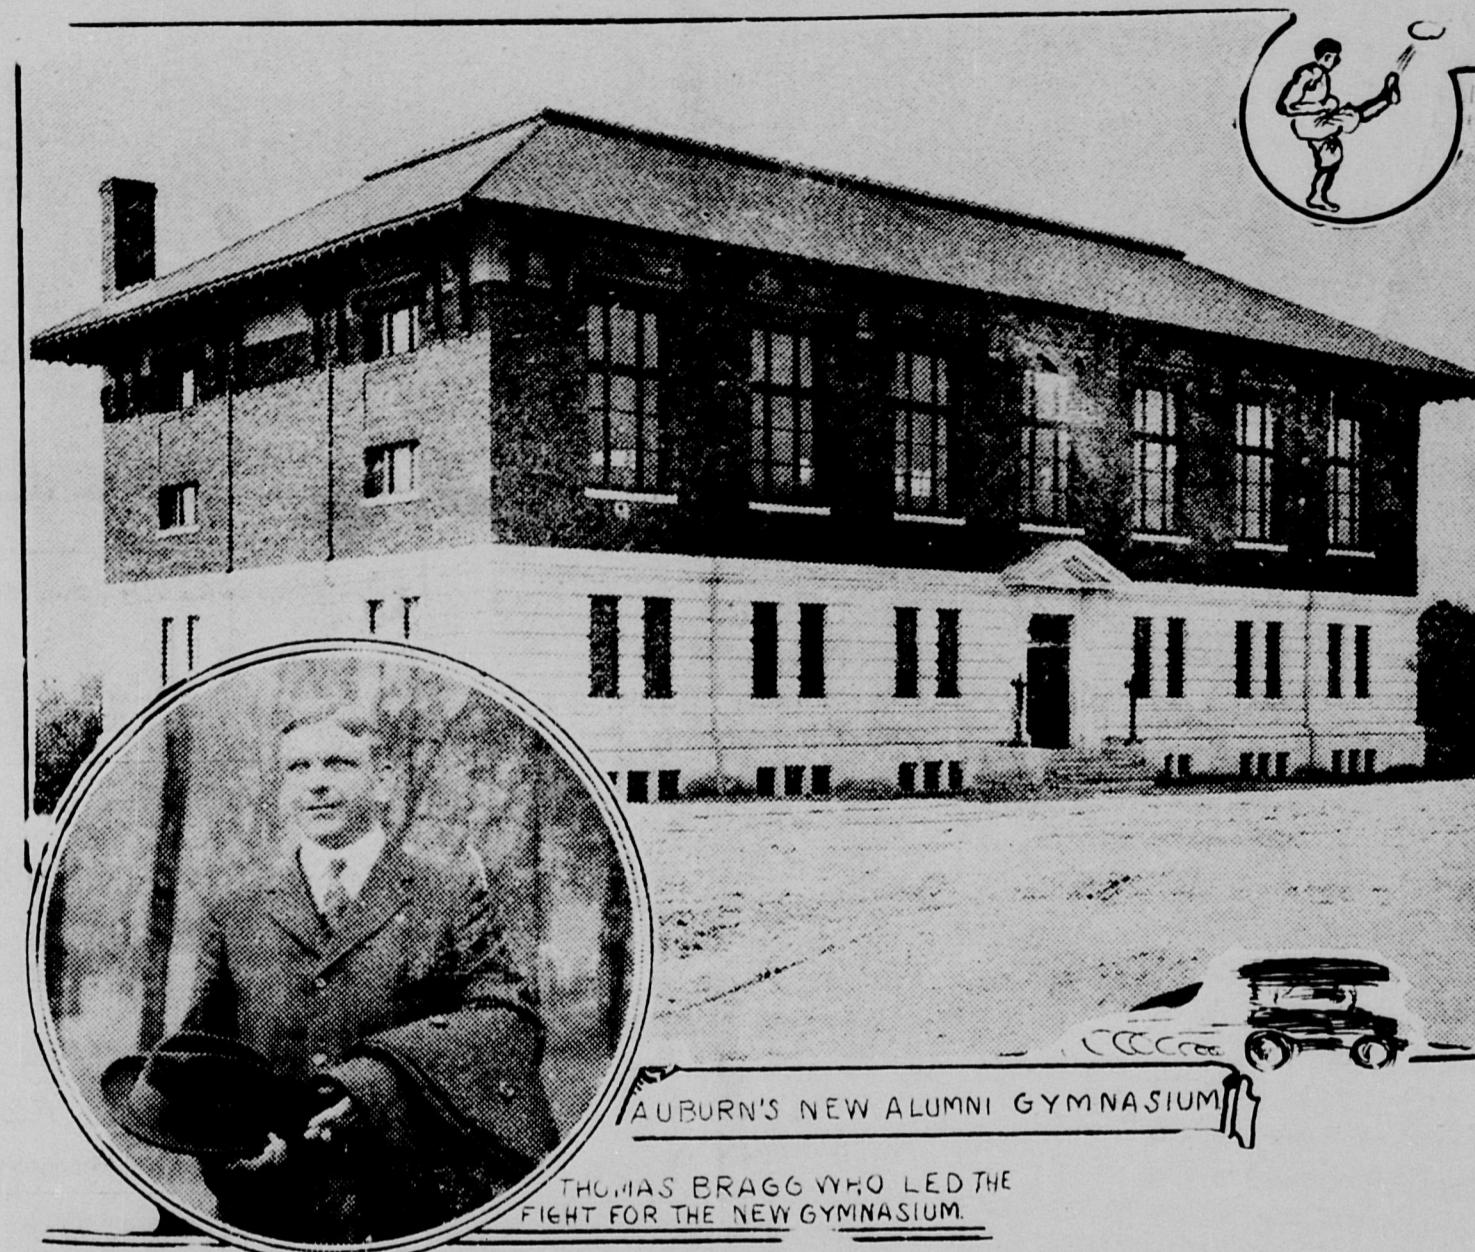

Gov. Henderson, in the name of

FLAG POLE PRESENTED TO COLLEGE BY SENIOR CLASS

On Thursday, Feb. 17th, the flag pole which is to be in the nature of a monument to the class of 1916, was formally dedicated and turned over by the class to the college. Dr. Thach in his characteristic gracious manner received the gift in the name of the college in a most appropriate address.

J. W. Andrews as representative of the class made the presentation speech. He was introduced by the class president, Glenn Liddell. At the close of the exercises the flag was raised to the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," which was followed by the usual Thursday afternoon parade.

WIN OVER SENIORS 14-0

Drake Field, Feb. 21.—When Burgess blocked Hickey's punt on the Seniors own 5 yard line and then fell on the ball for a touchdown and McLean kicked goal the championship was won. In the fourth quarter Gibson bucked another and McLean delivered again for good measure.

The entire student body and several hundred visitors gathered at Drake field Monday afternoon to see the championship class game of 1916. The odds were 3 to 1 on the Juniors after their splendid exhibition when they defeated the Sophs. But the Seniors had plenty of backers who led by our varsity cheer leader Josh Billing kept up plenty of "pep" and urged Capt. Hackworth and his warriors on.

Capt. McLean and McLemore were there with the drive and led interference in varsity fashion while "Blue" Harris's punts went for 40 to 5 yards long spirals which Liddell found difficult to handle. Moulton and Gibson and Harris alternated at fullback and all had the characteristic Auburn punch.

In the line Burgess was the star tearing his way through the Senior line time after time, blocking two punts, one which he fell on for a touchdown. Capt. Hackworth played his usual brilliant game at full and if his line had held there is no telling how much damage he would have done. Mills got away for several good gains around end and

VERY INTERESTING PROGRAM RENDERED

The Senior Class Exercises were held in Langdon Hall at 11 o'clock on Monday morning, this day being set aside as a holiday for that purpose.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. S. U. Turnipseed, after which Mr. G. D. Liddell, the President of the Senior Class, made the introductory address.

The Class History was given by Mr. O. M. Schomburg. He recalled many memories dear to the heart of the class members when he recounted our ambitions and our struggles during the past three and a half years to fulfill them.

When the class elected Mr. F. M. Taylor for its Prophet, it did so in view of the fact that he is possessed with an abundant sense of humor and it felt that he would make ample use of it. The class has been fully justified in its judgment, as those who heard him will testify.

However, he seemed to have been in a pessimistic frame of mind when he wrote it as far as our future success was concerned, for none were predicted to rise very high on the ladder of success, with the exception of the President and Owner of the T. H. & P. Railroad.

That some unscrupulous members of our class had conspired against our beloved Prophet was revealed at this stage of the exercises. Probably feeling insecure about their futures as predicted by him, a deep and well laid scheme was consummated when, at the end of the prophecy, Tater Bug was presented

THE MORAL OF THE STORY

The kindergarten teacher recited to her pupils the story of the wolf and the lamb. As she completed it she said:

"Now children, you see that the lamb would not have been eaten by the wolf if he had been good and sensible."

One little boy raised his hand. "Well, John," asked the teacher, "what is it?"

"If the lamb had been good and sensible," said the little boy gravely, "we should have had him to eat, wouldn't we?"—New York Times.

BRENEAU GLEE CLUB A GREAT SUCCESS

By far the most enjoyable entertainment of the year was held in Langdon Hall by the Glee Club from The Breneau College at Gainesville, Georgia.

The program was one that appealed to every one and showed much preparation by the concise manner in which it was carried out. Its rendition reflects much credit upon the Club's able director, Mr. Wilson.

The audience was carried off of its feet at the very start by the song from the Breneau Campus, which showed a similar spirit to that well known of Auburn. The encore, "We'll roll the old football along", received so much applause that the girls came back with a yell for Auburn. This was amply returned by the student body.

The quartette was exceptionally good and was highly appreciated by everyone.

From the amount of applause it could easily be seen that Miss Brown with her ukelele and Miss Dimon with her guitar had completely carried away the audience. Time and time again they were called back so forcibly that refusal would have been impossible.

The Japanese scene was well carried out in every respect and was a novelty that is seldom seen here in Auburn.

Now there appeared the objectionable part of the program—the intermission. There was a buzz everywhere. On one side a voice could be heard saying, "Gee, but she was fine"; and on the other hand some one would say, "I would not mind hearing her again".

But then Miss Ellis appeared and all remarks were hushed. In a delightful manner she sang "Bubbles", assisted by the club.

"Two of the Lunatics", Miss Dimon and Miss Dowling, were great with their puns.

Mr. Bonawitz next sweetened the

MEETING OF ALABAMA VETERINARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION HELD IN AUBURN

The annual meeting of the Alabama Veterinary Medical Association was held in Auburn, Feb. 18 and 19. General business was attended to after which interesting and entertaining papers were read by various members of the association. There was a good attendance most of whom were Alumni of this institution.

The visitors added to the success of the meeting and Dr. White's lectures and demonstrations were enjoyed by all, but more especially by the students.

Another twenty-second has gone down in history long to be remembered by the scores of pretty girl visitors and the many young gallants of the A. P. I. These dances, this year, graced as they were, by the elaborate and entirely delightful Alumni dance on Tuesday night will go down in history as the most brilliant dances in the history of the college. It is said that even those in charge have surprised themselves over the unsurpassed success attained. Prof. Bragg did say that the Alumni dance was going to be the best in the history of Auburn, so we are told and we take hats off to him as more than making good his word. He deserves nearly as much credit for the dance as he does for his splendid work on the new gym, which made possible the perfection attained. Here's hoping that the "new gym" together with the rest of its aspirations will be the place of as many brilliant dances as those of its initial opening.

Now, that the gymnasium building has been formally presented to the college it is up to everyone who may visit this magnificent gift of our Alumni to see that the building is kept clean. Let us abstain from smoking in the building which means the litter of tobacco ashes, and cigarette stubs. Also prevent the marking up and effacing the walls or woodwork. This may seem childish injunction but a visit to various of our other buildings will show to everyone the necessity of making it.

If the Gym lasts in proportion to its dedication it certainly will stand here for some time.

DISCOVERED

The college athlete stood before the faculty committee charged with professionalism.

"Is it true," he was asked, "that you once wrote home for money?"

"Yes" he replied, hanging his head.

"Is it also true that your letter was so well written that your father fell for it and increased your allowance?"

"Too true."

"Young man", said the chairman, "we, the jury, in view of the indisputable evidence before us, find you guilty. You are a professional bull thrower."

He was shot at sunrise.

MEETING OF ALABAMA V. M. A.

The free clinic, held Saturday morning from 9 to 1 was a feature of the program. Dr. White did several skillful and practical operations. The diagnosis and treatment of several lamenesses were turned over to other visiting Veterinarians, which relieved the senior class of some embarrassment.

After the lecture by ex-Gov. Glenn, of N. C., the student body and members of the association, agents, and visitors, assembled in the Veterinary building to elect officers for the following year. Dr. R. I. Kearley, of Andalusia, was elected president, and Dr. L. E. Beckham, of Tuscaloosa, Vice president.

It is interesting to note that these men are both Alumni of Auburn. Dr. Cary was again elected secretary treasurer. The whole assembly then marched to the O. D. Smith Dining Hall where they were entertained at the eighth annual banquet given by the V. M. A. of the A. P. I.

The Hall was beautifully decorated by vines and flowers. Dr. Cary as usual, was a good toastmaster, and called on several who responded with humorous jokes and interesting facts. Especially did the senior class enjoy the speeches that indicated a bright outlook in the veterinary profession.

The members of the association wish to express their appreciation to the ladies who assisted the committee in the decorations; to Mr. Taylor for the excellent prepared menu; and to the orchestra which furnished the beautiful and responsive music for the evening.

The first tour of Central America ever undertaken by a musical organization of an American College will be made when the musical clubs of Northwestern take their trip this winter.

Students of the University of Virginia have raised $1,000 with which to buy and equip an ambulance to send to the hospital corps on the firing line in France. The car will be driven by Robert Kent Gooch, star quarter back of the Virginia football eleven for three seasons, and now the holder of a Virginia Rhodes scholarship.

Howard College, through the head of the Department of Public Speaking, has signified its willingness to enter an intercollegiate oratorical contest. The proposed contest would be among Alabama institutions and would take place some time in the spring.—Howard Crimson.

To the Senior who grows the best mustache between now and March 31, the weekly paper of the University of Kentucky will give a handsome loving cup. The prize will be awarded by a vote of the co-eds in the chapel.—Exchange.

A number of colleges are now discussing the honor system. The Lawrentian says that in doing so the University of Virginia should be given credit for starting the movement, which was in 1842. Since that time 400 institutions have adopted the honor system.

Howard Press Club is the name of an organization formed by students taking Journalism Courses at Howard. The club was organized for the benefit of Journalism students.—Howard Crimson.

the State, accepted the gift in a most gracious manner.

The audience was then called upon to rise and sing America.

Capt. W. T. Sheehan, after being roared, rained, as "Grandma"—we don't see though how he got the name—showed the obligations of the individual to the college. He emphasized also the value of military training, and spoke highly of the showing in this line by Auburn.

Dr. Petrie, in his grave and methodical way told of the happy days of the golden past. His explanation of the evolution of the gym suit was highly appreciated by the audience.

He also paid a high tribute to Tom Bragg, calling him the "Hello Central" of the Alumni Association, and remarking that if there were two like him the Alumni would go bankrupt.

Pres. Riggs, of Clemson College, an Auburn Alumnus, praised the Auburn spirit and Auburn athletics.

Dean Barnwell, of the University of Alabama, brought greetings and good wishes from the University, and praised Auburn for its efficiency comparing it to German efficiency. Dean Barnwell was a famous fullback on Auburn's team of 1892.

Dr. Holmes of Gordon pulled the best joke of the day. He referred to the fact that he had seen Auburn teams play under many different circumstances, but they were always magnanimous in victory and glorious even in defeat.

Randle of Tech. and Sanford of Ga. gave interesting reminiscences and showed that ideal intercollegiate athletic relations had always existed between our institution and theirs.

Coach Donahue, though not on the program, was called upon for a speech. He told of his first experiences in Auburn, which were quite amusing.

Dr. Ross presented Mr. Lockwood, the architect with a handsome fob, as a small token of the appreciation for his services.

W. R. Tichenor, in the name of the Alumni presented Tom Bragg with a beautiful fob, as a fitting climax for so glorious an occasion.

also played a good defensive game. Liddell returned punts in Kirk Newell style using his stiff arm on the Juniors forwards in "big league" fashion.

It was a great game fellows and from the time the whistle blew and Harris booted the ball for 45 yards until the Seniors made their final stand under the shadow of their own goal posts there was not a minute of loafing. There was the old Auburn fight in every play.

The Juniors goal was never in danger. They were well coached in every department. (Prendy did it). The lack of penalties for off-side, holding, etc., which was prominent in the preliminary games was gratifying for teams with as little football experience as the class teams have.

The lineup was as follows:

Wagner	C	Bush
Crawford	L. G.	Dumas
Owsley	L. T.	Leslie
Stuckey	R. G.	Johnson
Roberts	R. T.	Burgess

with a bouquet in the form of a head of cabbage only partially hidden from public view by a handful of broom sage. The sage, we suppose, was symbolic of prophetic wisdom. We wish to congratulate Mr. Taylor on the fine prophecy he gave us and will say he is, without doubt, the champion seer of Auburn, as "none so good" have been presented to date.

The class poem was presented by Miss Evelyn Moore, and we couldn't have wished for anything better, either in the subject matter it contained or in the way in which it was presented. It will long be remembered by those who were present.

"Last but not least" came the class oration, delivered by Mr. J. W. Andrews. "Scoop" gave us some good advice for use in after years which we would earnestly advise all to read over when the Glomerata appears. It was delivered in a manner which only he can use when at his best and to those who have heard him, this is a sufficient recommendation for oratorical style and delivery.

The music for the occasion was furnished by the Auburn Band, and we wish to thank Prof. Thomas and the Band and to say that it was very much enjoyed and appreciated.

Taken as a whole, the exercises were voted the best ever had in many moons and in after years will be remembered as one of the brightest spots of an otherwise bright college life.

R. F. WALTHOUR

The February dances of 1916 have gone down in the history of Auburn as the most brilliant ever held. They were in exact keeping with an event as important as the dedication of the new Alumni Gymnasium. The whirling mass of bright colors, blended with the uniform of grey found a fitting and beautiful setting in a building complete in design and finish. To be brief everything was ideal. The girls brought with them not only bright faces but fair weather. These bright faces came from almost every corner of Dixie, forming the largest and most attractive gathering of young women ever seen in Auburn. Although it will be impossible for you to judge them by their names alone, you can find interest in their names. Miss Katherine Toone of Marshall, Texas, Miss Alice Clapp of Selma, Ala. Misses Jane and Dottie Cowles, Charlotte and Rebie Wilkins, Marion Neal, Helen Jones, Edith Hudson, and Caroline Seymour of Atlanta, Ga. Misses Juliet Wiley, Margaret Walthour, Jule and Evelyn Safford, Frances West, Eugenia Byars and Sara Evans of Montgomery, Ala. Misses Anna Will Pearce, Mary Dudley and Louise Johnston of Columbus, Ga. Misses Clyde Justice and Bess Holley of Prattville, Ala. Misses Mep Perkins, Margaret Lowman, Marrie Hardwick, Ruth Cowen, Susan Freeman of Birmingham, Ala. Misses Miller of Memphis Tenn. Mary Lee Webb of Tuscaloosa, Ala. Florence Hollingsworth of Gadsden, Ala. Hazel and Evelyn House of Anniston, Ala. Birdie Kline, Anna Wilmore, Otis Thach, and Julia Henry of Auburn.

THE JUNIOR DANCE.

The opening dance of the gay season was given by the Junior class and was held in the new gym. It is memorable not only because it was the first formal dance held in the new gym, but because it was lead by Miss "Texas" Toone, yes of the "Lone Star State," and Mr. Marion Kelley. We all know that it was a great success. It was a beginning that guaranteed a happy ending.

SOPHMORE-FRESHMAN DANCE
The under class men held their dance on Saturday night, in the old dining hall, that was soon to be robbed of its place in the social life of Auburn. Miss Eugenia Byars, of Montgomery, and Mr. J. G. Nall led, assisted by Miss Frances West and Mr. J. K. Ware. About twenty girls of the Brenau Glee Club helped to make this dance one of the most enjoyable given.

SENIOR DANCE

The Senior dance was the last of the class dances, but by no means the least. It was held Monday night in Smith Hall. It was informal, as dances were always, when held in the historic old hall. To the Seniors who realized that their dance was the last to be given in the faithful old hall, came back vivid memories of four years duration. We remember how in its informal old style way, the old dormitory has given us pleasure that to us can never be rivaled. On Monday night by giving a most successful and most beautiful dance, we endeavored to show the old dormitory that we appreciated the pleasures it had afforded us during the past four years. Miss Clyde Justice and Mr. Leo Donovan lead. The grand march was original in conception, and perfect in execution. It was second only to the march led by Governor Henderson at the Alumni Ball.

THE ALUMNI DANCE

Tuesday, February the twenty-second, nineteen hundred and sixteen was without a doubt the greatest day Auburn has had since Commencement three years ago. Tuesday was almost as gay and as great as that Homecoming Day. But Tuesday night, with its Alumni dance, was several times more illustrious than Homecoming night with its dance. Naturally because it was from that gathering three years past gone, that Tuesday and Tuesday night did spring. Three years ago we anticipated, Tuesday night we realized, and our realization even surpassed our anticipation.

At the hour of nine that great dance started. The new gym beautiful of itself, was made magnificent by decorations of evergreen, bunting and banners. When the music began the seething mass of pretty and handsome pleasure seekers, led by the first lady and gentleman of the State, went smoothly and gracefully through the execution of the grand march.

Words are too few to describe the dance, or the feeling of pleasure and pride that the sight of that dance inspired. The laughter from the throats of sixty young couples blended with the music of twenty instruments in such a way as to give one a feeling of inexpressible pleasure and joy. The sight of sixty beautiful girls, happy in the company of a hundred soldierly young men, neatly and handsomely clad in dress uniform, brought to ones mind the early day of chivalry, and inspired one with the greatest of prides; a pride in the beauty and honor, of the flower and youth of our State and our country.

For all this we thank Prof. Thos. Bragg, and the Alumni of Auburn.

PHI DELTA THETA DANCE

The Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, entertained Saturday afternoon.

Dancing was the program, and was enjoyed by everyone. Music was furnished by the Auburn Orchestra.

PI KAPPA ALPHA DANCE

After the Senior-Junior football game on Monday afternoon, the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity gave a very informal dance in their beautiful house.

SENIOR SPONSORS

The sponsor for the Senior football team Monday afternoon was Miss Helen Jones, of Atlanta, escorted by Mr. R. F. Walthour. Miss Alice Clapp, of Selma acted as maid and was escorted by Mr. D. M. Rickenbaker. The car in which the two couples attended the game was appropriately decorated with the class colors of blue and white. Both sponsor and maid wore American beauty roses.

JUNIOR SPONSORS

The Junior sponsors were Misses Katherine Toone, Hazel House and Margaret Lowman. They were escorted by Messrs Ray House, Harry Seybt, and C. N. Scoville. The car was covered with quantities of red and white bunting, and the ladies carried large bouquets of red and white carnations.

The following were among the visiting Alumni, who attended the opening of the new gymnasium:
